FINNS ADVANCE ON PETROGRAD

WHITE GUARD WIPED OUT FORCE OF 6,000 BOLSHIEVIST RED GUARDS.

(By the Associated Press)
London, April 30.—White guards, or Finnish government forces, have captured Viborg, seventy-five miles northwest of Petrograd, after killing nearly the entire force of 6,000 Red Guards, according to an official statement issued at Vasa and transmitted from Copenhagen by the Exchange Telegraph Company.

PROMINENT ATTORNEYS HELD ON INTRODUCING CHARGE.
Chickasha, Okla., April 30.—Morgan Pruett, Oklahoma City attorney, and W. M. Mahon of Shawnee, formerly judge of the Tenth judicial district, were bound over to the federal grand jury on charges of introducing liquor into the old Indian territory part of Oklahoma, today, following a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Speak. They were released under $500 bond each pending grand jury investigation at McAlester in June.

R. E. Bilby and James Brown, the enforcement officers who made the arrests, testified that they took twelve quarts of whiskey from Pruett and six quarts from Mahon, when they seized grips in a Pullman car soon after the train entered Oklahoma, from Texas. Pruett offered resistance, the officers said, and guns were taken from both prisoners. Two Rock Island conductors testified that a scuffle took place between the officers and the two defendants. The defense offered no testimony at the preliminary hearing.

ALLIES REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS AT ALL POINTS

GERMANS LOSE HEAVILY IN FUTILE ATTACKS. ALLIES REGAIN SOME LOST GROUND.

(By the Associated Press)
Throwing in thousands of new troops, the Germans are making a desperate effort to drive back the allied line in Flanders and capture Ypres and hill positions to the southwest. Many attacks in strong force aided by artillery fire have been futile and the allies are standing firm while inflicting heavy losses on the enemy. Against the British around Voormezele and the French in the Loere region the Germans are making the heaviest strokes but each assault has been thrown back brilliantly. The villages of Voormezele and Loere are still held by British and French. On the Picardy battle front where American, British and French troops await the next enemy move, only artillery has been active. The Germans have not renewed their local attacks at Hangard.

Paris Again Under Fire.
Paris, April 30.—Long range bombardment of Paris was resumed this morning.

Germans Gain Nothing.
Paris, April 30.—Heavy artillery fighting occurred last night north and south of the Avre river in the Noyon sector and along the Oise river, the war office reports. On the right bank of the Meuse on the Verdun front, German detachments were repulsed by French fire, leaving prisoners, the statement adds. Nothing to report on the remainder of the front.

Allies Make Some Gains.
London, April 30.—The French now hold the entire village of Loere, west of Mount Kemmel, says an official statement from the British war office. During the night the British advanced the line east of Villers-Bretonneux on the front before Amiens. In Loere vicinity the French, by counter attacks yesterday afternoon, drove the Germans from ground gained by them in the morning. The Germans having been repulsed all along the northern battle front, the night passed in comparative quiet.

TONIGHT THE TREBLE CLEF CLUB.

At the Normal tonight Miss Keller's Girl's Chorus will present "King Rene's Daughter," a beautiful secular Cantata. It presents a beautiful love-story of Southern France in the days of the troubadours. The music is of a delightful lyric type. The solos and the part music will bring out fully this lyric type.

The proceeds are to go to France for the entertainment of the American soldiers that are in actual service. We venture to remind you again of what Pershing said last Sunday that after his turn in the trenches "the English soldier can turn to 'Bright,' the French soldier can go home, but the American soldier is like a stranger in a strange land and has nowhere to go unless his own countrymen furnish him a place."

The Red Cross, along with other organizations, is furnishing this place and the proceeds of this Cantata will go to the entertainment unit of the Red Cross. For this reason as well as for the Cantata's own merit there ought to be a big attendance.

CHANGES REQUESTED IN DRAFT MEASURE

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, April 30.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today requested congress to eliminate from the bill extending the draft to youths under twenty-one an amendment putting at the bottom of eligible list those who would register under the measure and asked that the bill having draft quotas on the number in class one be amended making the operation retroactive. Delay in enactment of the measure, General Crowder said, necessitates the retroactive feature.

ANOTHER PEACE OFFER REPORTED

RUMORED THAT AUSTRIAN EMPEROR APPEALS TO ITALY TO END WAR.

FEW FURLOUGHS WILL BE GRANTED

Oklahoma City, April 30.—Local boards are to be warned by Major Eugene Kerr, selective service officer in the adjutant general's office, against the granting of promiscuous recommendations for furloughs for men purported to be needed in farm work.

"Furloughs are to be granted only where it is shown that failure of the man to go back to the farm will result in a positive loss of grain," said Major Kerr yesterday upon his return from Camp Travis where he conferred with officials at the camp on the question of releasing men for farm work.

"Few men are going to be released from the camp and those who are, will be allowed but thirty day leaves. There are hundreds of recommendations from Oklahoma local boards at Camp Travis for men to be given farm furloughs and most of them are without merit."

SPECIAL STUDIES SERIES AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The pastor of the First Presbyterian Church has arranged a series of ten devotional, inspirational and scriptural studies in the "Life of Christ." These will be given on Wednesday evenings, beginning tomorrow (May 1) at the regular prayer services of the Church. All are cordially invited to attend the services and the members are especially urged to be present each evening of the entire series. The following is the entire program.

- May 1—"The Divinity of Christ."
- May 8—"The Humanity of Christ."
- May 15—"The Matchless Preacher."
- May 22—"The Master Teacher."
- May 29—"The Parable Lessons."
- June 5—"The Wonder Worker."
- June 12—"The Burden Bearer."
- June 19—"The Great Example."
- June 26—"The Good Shepherd."
- July 3—"The Man of Sorrows."

The services begin at 8:15 and you are invited where there's always a comfortable row and a hearty welcome for you. Strangers especially invited to make our services theirs while in the city.—George Wesley Beck, Minister. Residence 107 East 14th. Telephone 232.

SHIPBUILDERS SPEED UP IN PRODUCTION

Washington, April 30.—American shipbuilders have responded to the Shipping Board's urgent demand for speed in production. In the week ending today they launched 41,150 tons, making a total of 1,405,000 tons since the building program got under way.

Nearly 50,000 tons of completed ships were delivered during the week.

Call Potatoes to Wheat's Support.
Washington, D. C., April 30.—It's time to call out the potato reserve—in full force, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Wheat must have this support to last through till the next harvest. There are still millions of bushels of that 442,556,000 bushel record crop of potatoes we grew last year. Potatoes can hold the line; they are made of the right stuff—much the same stuff as wheat. They do much the same work as wheat in the body. They are plentiful and are getting cheaper. Eat lots of them; then your wheat needs become less.

X. F. WILFLEY APPOINTED SENATOR TO SUCCEED STONE
St. Louis, Mo., April 30.—Xenophon F. Wilfley, member of the St. Louis Board of Election Commissioners and prominent Democrat of Missouri, tonight was tendered by Governor Gardner the seat in the United States Senate vacated recently by the death of Senator William J. Stone. Wilfley announced he would accept the appointment and left for Jefferson City to confer with the governor.

Judge W. W. Graves today declined the appointment of United States Senator tendered to him last Friday by Governor Gardner. At present he is chief justice of the Missouri Supreme Court.

Judge Graves sent a letter of declination to the governor this morning in which he stated that he believed his greater duty lay within the work he is now doing.

AFTER TAKING 2 BOTTLES PEP PILLS, LADY GAINS TWELVE POUNDS

WAS RUN DOWN AND COULDN'T SLEEP AT NIGHT.

Miss A. P. O'Shields, 503 West Sixth Street, Fort Worth, in an interview with our representative, had the following to say:

"I suffered with stomach trouble and a general run-down, nervous system. My appetite was poor and was unable to sleep at night. I was in misery all the time and could not perform my duties without getting easily fatigued.

"For a long time, I endured this misery and when I couldn't stand it anymore, I began a search for a tonic that would correct my stomach ills and furnish me with a plentiful blood supply.

"Pep Systemic Pills were recommended to me and after taking only two bottles, I gained twelve pounds and my stomach trouble disappeared.
My nerves became calm and I enjoyed sound sleep at night, which made me refreshed.

"I cannot say too much in praise of this wonderful tonic and heartily recommend it to anyone who may be in my former condition."

REGULATIONS ON SALE OF FLOUR

April 1st, 1918.
ALL RETAIL GROCERS:

Below you will find instructions governing the sale of flour.
You are required to make and keep a record or copy of each bill covering the item of flour; then, when your customers call for another sack, you are to demand the surrender of the bill covering the first purchase. As to frequency of purchases, take into consideration the size of family and base your sale on the ratio of 1 1/2 pounds per person per week. Under no circumstances are you to deviate from this rule.

Please impress upon your customers the importance of bringing their old bill with them when making a new purchase, for, without it he will be unable to buy flour.

This is to take effect immediately and you are to know beyond a doubt that he is entitled to make his first purchase without the bill covering his last flour.

OKLAHOMA RANKS HIGH IN STAMP SALES

Muskogee, Okla., April 3.—(Special)—Oklahoma's sales of War Savings Stamps were four and a half times as great as during the month of February as they were in January, a showing considered remarkable, according to information forwarded by the treasury department.

The report indicates that the people of the state are rapidly acquiring the thrift and saving habit. In January Oklahoma stood fortieth among the states for sales during that month. In February the sales placed Oklahoma in eleventh place for monthly sales and fifth in the tenth Federal Reserve Bank district for that month.

Oklahoma has passed the two million mark up to March 1st. Of this total sales for February were $1-477,733.74 and the per capita savings jumped from 14 cents to 63
cents in February.

At this wonderful rate of progress Oklahoma will soon be up to its quota. Even greater progress is expected in view of the reports received the last few days to the effect that news from the front is causing many to rush to buy stamps.

NEWSPAPERS GIVE 12,000 COL- UMNS TO DEFENSE COUNCIL

Oklahoma City, April 3.—Twelve thousand columns of space has been printed by Oklahoma newspapers for the state council of defense in the ten months of its organization, according to a report compiled today.

More than 300 columns a week now is being filled by newspapers with material furnished by the publicity department of the state council.

"Questionnaires submitted to newspapers show that they do not consider this a burden but an opportunity to obtain from a reliable source the general war news of Oklahoma and at the same time to perform a patriotic service," the council's report says.

ENGLISH TROOPS MAKE FOOTBALL POPULAR

Paris, March 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Football has made such wonderful strides since the beginning of the war that it bids fair to become as popular in France as it is in England. As it stands now it may already be looked upon as the national sport of France.

The game was in favor with the French people before the outbreak of hostilities. With the advent of the English troops in France, football has made more progress during the last three years than during all the years that elapsed since it was introduced in France.

The French soldiers are especially fond of the game and each division boasts of one or more star elements. The Twentieth Corps gave a very creditable account of itself some days ago when it met the champions of 1917, the Associated Francaise, the game ending with a score of two to one.

But it is among the younger generation that football has taken a firmer hold. There are more than five hundred delevens in Paris alone and every Sunday about two hundred and fifty games are decided. It is estimated that over one hundred thousand people see the games each Sunday.

Before the war the "Ligue de Football Association" composed of twelve clubs played weekly games which were attended by numerous enthusiasts of the sport but with the mobilization most of the athletes joined the army and during the first few months of the war they had more serious business. However, in 1915, with the armies settled down to trench warfare and owing to the close contact with the British troops which lost no opportunity of enjoying their favorite pastime, football received an impetus hitherto unknown
in France.

The British government has ordered one million footballs for its troops in France, delivery to be made within the next six months. Some of them have already reached France. A new experiment in footballs has been made. Owing to the scarcity of leather, the covers are made of heavy canvass which has been given chemical treatment. The new footballs give satisfaction, the ball often being in better condition at the conclusion of the game than a leather covered ball would have been if subjected to the same usage.

It seems to be the ambition of the young Frenchman to become a champion football player just as it was the dream of every American youth to develop into a base ball star.

Mr. Mamelie, the president of the Union of the French Societies of Athletic Sports told the Associated Press that "the soldiers have found the game invaluable in helping them to while away their days in the rear and many an afternoon has been spent in the fresh, invigorating air that might have been passed in some stuffy cafe. It is the muscular vitality of a large part of young France that is at stake. Football has come to France to stay."

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Ada Readers.
Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of bachache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Ada woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. B. F. Stegall, 508 W. Sixth St., says: "I think a great deal of Doan's Kidney Pills. They gave me good relief and I feel they are worthy

Put Doan's Kidney Pills in all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get

GARDEN CAMPAIGN IS BIG SUCCESS

Oklahoma City, April 3 (Special).—The "Grow a Garden" campaign, which has been conducted under the direction of the State Council of De-fense by J. W. Bridges, has met with splendid success. It will prove a practical and valuable addition to the food supply of the state. There is scarcely a community in Oklahoma where large numbers of gardens are not under way. The pamphlet issued by Mr. Bridges, giving practical ad-vice on garden growing has been highly commended by the govern-ment, as well as by the defense coun-cils of several states, which have asked permission to use it.

ADA MAN LOSES HOPE

"For 10 years I suffered severely from stomach trouble. The doctors said I had cancer of the stomach and nothing would do but an opera-tion. I took my last round of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy 2-1-2 years ago. Since then I sleep well, eat what I want and feel fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes prac-tically all stomach, liver and intesti-nal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money re-funded. Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

The editor of the Daily Oklahoman is said to be a Republican. It is to be seen if a Republican can handle a Democratic newspaper.

It is not very healthy for any one to "cuss" the government or have words of praise for Kaiser Bill. If one has such poison in his system as love for the Germans, he had better keep it there.

Our good friend G. N. Waldbly of Bebe says that his council of defense is planning to meet with the council of defense of Worstell and the two hold a sale for the Red Cross. Members of the two councils will be asked to donate a hen, a pig, a quilt, anything they want to. These articles will be sold and the entire proceeds go to the Red Cross. This is not a bad idea, and one that might be followed by other councils. Mr. Waldbly also suggested that it would be advisable for several councils in the county to hold a sale at Ada on some Saturday and give the town people an opportunity to buy things from the farm and at the same time help a good cause.

Day by day the young men of Ada go to war. Some go to one camp, some to another. Some day they will come back, each one with a different idea of the world and what living means. Bringing ideas from all parts of the world of deeds, they will be mighty forces in making Oklahoma a more cosmopolitan state, and the petty jealousies that have existed in various places will give way to broad thinking and constructive ideas. Oklahoma has always been a state of many ideas, for the population is made up of the representatives of every section of the country. Add to these new ideas obtained in the war, and the state will develop more rapidly in thought as well as in industry.

Although there is a labor shortage in this county, the farmers are putting in a bit more land and will work overtime to cultivate it. Here's betting they cultivate it in a good way, too. The way the farmers of this county have bought liberty bonds in the last drive indicates that they will work twenty-four hours a day if necessary to win the war.

In writing J. M. Wintersmith that he would accept the chairmanship of the Red Cross campaign, one of the chairmen of the school district councils of defense said that he was to leave his crop and work night and day for the government. He has already offered to go to the Mexican Border, he says, in spite of the fact that he is fifty years old. This man believes that the older men could handle Mexico with ease and that the young men should be saved for killing Germans alone. Of course, the young men of America would not give up their right to thrash and Greasers if they need thrashing, but such a spirit as is shown by this Pontotoc county farmer is the spirit that fired the shot at Lexington, such a spirit that will keep the Star Spangled banner forever waving over the land of the free and the home of the brave, such a spirit that can never be defeated.

"God's in His heaven;

HOME LABOR
The question of broomcorn as a money crop this year, especially on land where wheat has failed, is being talked about pretty generally in Western Oklahoma. Broomcorn lends itself especially to substitution of this kind, and there is little doubt but that the price will be high and the market good. The chief question to be considered is that of labor. If we are to figure on about one man to every three acres of broomcorn the labor proposition should be figured out in detail before the crop is planted. Are there men in the neighborhood who can be hired when this broomcorn is ready to harvest?

It is becoming more and more evident that, with the possible exception of wheat harvest time, Oklahoma folks will have to depend on Oklahoma labor pretty generally this year for all the operations of the farm. This means that every community will have to solve its own labor problem as best it can and that the solution will largely rest on the folks in that community who are accustomed to doing farm work. There has been quite a great deal of talk about closing the stores in the towns and getting the merchants out to help during the rush periods on the farms. In one sense this is a fine thing. It will help the town merchant to understand more fully the problems of the farmer and the labor conditions under which the farmer must work. But so far as real help goes in disposing of the farm work, when the town man goes to the farm the local Red Cross society should also get ready to do business on a large scale right at home.

The government has worked out a very complete system whereby the farmer who wants to hire a hand can tell his rural delivery carrier about it and the rural delivery carrier will tell the postmaster and the postmaster the county labor agent and the county labor agent will pass the word on to the state and national labor agencies. But I have yet to learn from any of these state or national labor agencies about any supply of farm labor which they can send to Oklahoma in case we ask it. And right there is where the shoe pinches. Crop plans this year more than ever before will depend very largely on the available home supply of farm labor.—Farmer-Stockman.

CHAPTER XXI.

About Turn.
The next evening we were relieved by the —th brigade, and once again returned to rest billets. Upon arriving at these billets we were given twenty-four hours in which to clean up. I had just finished getting the mud from my uniform when the orderly sergeant informed me that my name was in orders to leave, and that I was to report to the orderly room in the morning for orders, transportation and rations.

I nearly had a fit, hustled about packing up, filling my pack with souvenirs such as shell heads, dud bombs, nose caps, shrapnel balls, and a Prussian guardsman's helmet. In fact, before I turned in that night, I had everything ready to report at the orderly room at nine the next morning.

I was the envy of the whole section, swanking around, telling of the good time I was going to have, the places I would visit, and the real, old English beer I intended to guzzle. Sort of rubbed it into them, because they all "to it, and now that it was my turn, I took pains to get my own back.

At nine I reported to the captain, receiving my travel order and pass. He asked me how much money I wanted to draw. I glibly answered, "Three hundred francs, sir," he just as glibly handed me one hundred.

Reporting at brigade headquarters, with my pack weighing a ton, I waited, with forty others, for the adjutant to inspect us. After an hour's wait, he came out; must have been sore because he wasn't going with us.

The quartermaster sergeant issued us two days' rations, in a little white canvas ration bag, which we tied to our belts.

Then two motor lorries came along and we piled in, laughing, joking, and in the best of spirits. We even loved the Germans, we were feeling so happy. Our journey to seven days' bliss in Blighty had commenced.

The ride in the lorry lasted about two hours; by this time we were covered with fine, white dust from the road, but didn't mind, even if we were nearly choking.

At the railroad station at F— we reported to an officer, who had a white band around his arm, which read "R. T. O." (Royal Transportation Officer). To us this officer was Santa Claus.

The sergeant in charge showed him our orders; he glanced through them and said: "Make yourselves comfortable on the platform and don't leave; the train is liable to be along in five minutes—or five hours."

It came in five hours, a string of eleven match boxes or big, high wheels, drawn by a dinky little engine with the "con." These match boxes were cattle cars, on the sides of which was painted the old familiar sign, "Hommes 40, Chevaux 8."

The R. T. O. stuck us all into one car. We didn't care; it was as good as a Pullman to us.

Two days we spent on that train, bumping, stopping, jerking ahead, and sometimes sliding back. At three stations we stopped long enough to make some tea, but were unable to wash, so when we arrived at B—, where we were to embark for Blighty, we were as black as Turcos and, with our unshaven faces, we looked like a lot of tramps. Though tired out, we were happy.

think if that train had been on time, those seventeen would still be alive. I hate to tell you how I was kidded by the boys when I got back, but it was good and plenty.

Our machine gun company took over their part of the line at seven o'clock, the night after I returned from my near leave.

At 3:30 the following morning three waves went over and captured the first and second German trenches. The machine gunners went over with the fourth wave to consolidate the captured line or "dig in," as Tommy calls it.

Crossing No Man's Land without clicking any casualties, we came to the German trench and mounted our guns on the parapets of same. I never saw such a mess in my life—bunches of twisted barbed wire lying about, shell holes everywhere, trench all bashed in, parapets gone, and dead bodies, why, that ditch was full of them, theirs and ours. It was a regular morgue. Some were mangled horribly from our shell fire, while others were wholly or partly buried in the mud, the result of shell explosions caving in the walls of the trench. One dead German was lying on his back, with a rifle sticking straight up in the air, the bayonet of which was buried to the hilt in his chest. Across his feet lay a dead English soldier with a bullet hole in his forehead. This Tommy must have been killed just as he ran his bayonet through the German.

Rifles and equipment were scattered about, and occasionally a steel helmet could be seen sticking out of the mud. At one point, just in the entrance to a communication trench, was a stretcher. On this stretcher a German was lying with a white bandage around his knee, near to him lay one of the stretcher-bearers, the red cross on his arm covered with mud and his helmet filled with blood and brains. Close by, sitting up against the wall of the trench, with head resting on his chest, was the other stretcher-bearer. He seemed to be alive, the posture was so natural and easy; but when I got closer I could see a large, jagged hole in his temple. The three must have been killed by the same shell-burst.

The dugouts were all smashed in and knocked about, big square-cut timbers splintered into bits, walls caved in and entrances choked.

Tommy, after taking a trench, learns to his sorrow that the hardest part of the work is to hold it.

In our case this proved to be so. The German artillery and machine guns had us taped (ranged) for fair; it was worth your life to expose yourself an instant.

Don't think for a minute that the Germans were the only sufferers; we were clicking casualties so fast that you needed an adding machine to keep track of them.

Did you ever see one of the steam shovels at work on the Panama canal? Well, it would look like a hen scratching alongside of a Tommy "digging in" while under fire. You couldn't see daylight through the clouds of dirt from his shovel.

After losing three out of six men of our crew we managed to set up our machine gun. One of the legs of the tripod was resting on the chest of a half-buried body. When the gun was firing, it gave the impression that the body was breathing. This was caused by the excessive vibration.

Three or four feet down the trench, about three feet from the ground, a foot was protruding from the earth. We knew it was a German by the black leather boot. One of our crew used that foot to hang extra bandoliers of ammunition on. This man always was a handy fellow; made use of little points that the ordinary person would overlook.

The Germans made three counter-attacks, which we repulsed, but not without heavy loss on our side. They also suffered severely from our shell and machine-gun fire. The ground was spotted with their dead and dying.

The next day things were somewhat quieter, but not quiet enough to bury the dead.

We lived, ate and slept in that trench with the unburied dead for six days. It was awful to watch their faces become swollen and discolored. Towards the last the stench was fierce.

What got on my nerves the most was that foot sticking out of the dirt. It seemed to me, at night, in the moonlight, to be trying to twist around. Several times this impression was so strong that I went to it and grasped it in both hands, to see if I could feel a movement.

I told this to the man who had used it for a hatrack just before I lay down for a little nap, as things were quiet, and I needed a rest pretty badly. When I woke up the foot was gone. He had cut it off with our chain saw out of the spare parts' box, and had plastered the stump over with mud.

During the next two or three days, before we were relieved, I missed that foot dreadfully; seemed as if I had suddenly lost a chum.

I think the worst thing of all was to watch the rats, at night, and sometimes in the day, run over and play about among the dead.

awful sights that it makes no impression. In passing a butcher shop you are not shocked by seeing a dead turkey hanging from a hook. Well, in France, a dead body is looked upon from the same angle.

But, nevertheless, when our six days were up, we were tickled to death to be relieved.

Our machine gun company lost seventeen killed and thirty-one wounded in that little local affair of "straightening the line," while the other companies clicked it worse than we did.

After the attack we went into reserve billets for six days, and on the seventh once again we were in rest billets.

TWO PLANS FOR CANADIAN BRIDGE

ENGINEER TELLS OF LOW WATER AND HIGH WATER TYPES.

That the plans for a low water bridge across the South Canadian river just north of Ada should be changed to a high water bridge is the judgment of L. C. Lashmet, engineer for Waddell & Son, Inc., a well known engineering firm of Kansas City and New York. The high level bridge can be built for only a few thousand dollars more than the low level, he says, and the service and stability of the bridge would be greatly superior to the low level kind.

A high level bridge, according to this engineer's estimate, with seventeen feet clear roadway, all reinforced concrete, and footings carried to rock bottom, would cost $45,300. To make the roadway nineteen feet in the clear instead of seventeen feet would cost $49,000. The estimate for the low level bridge had previously been made at $28,000.

The low level bridge, advocates of the high level contend, would be subject to give way in time as a result of the high water. The high level bridge, being above the water, is not subject to give away from the pressure of the water, and is also at the service of the public at all times.

It is reported that State Highway Engineer Max Cunningham is in favor of the high level bridge, though this report has not been confirmed by the News.

Keep Criticism to Yourself.
When you feel an inclination to criticize, remember that you weren't born to set the world right. Just murmur to yourself that, after all, it's a pretty nice little old world, and that perhaps it would be even more difficult to get along with people if they were all quite perfect, which they certainly aren't. Just keep your critical faculty to yourself; it will have all the exercise it needs.—Exchange.

Does Not Reduce the Price.
A pipe has been invented which fills itself as fast as the tobacco in the bowl is consumed. How Mark Twain would have appreciated this modern convenience! While Mr. Clemens was a young man, it is said, he contrived a pipe, consisting of a can of tobacco placed on the floor, to which a long rubber tube was attached. Then he would light the whole can and smoke in bed.—Exchange.

The Real Thing.
It makes a fellow step higher when some big man says of him: "He is the smartest man in this town!" But that is nothing by the side of having a little chap snuggle up to your side and whisper softly, "I like you! You're so good to me!"—Farm Life.

When linoleum becomes worn, polish it with prepared liquid wax. Dampen an old piece of woolen underwear with a tablespoonful of the wax and rub the linoleum with it as if you were scrubbing the floor. Polish with a dry woolen cloth until it shines. This renews the faded colors. After the first coat of wax, the linoleum may be polished daily with a waxed cloth fastened to a mop handle, thus saving the housekeeper from scrubbing the floors.

RUSSIA'S PLAN TO LIMIT PROFITS

(By the Associated Press)
New York, April 30.—Profits of Russian factory owners are to be limited to five or six percent on their investment and the manufacturers are to be required to reinvest a quarter of their profits, under the Bolshevik economic plan as outlined by Leon Trotsky, now Russian Minister of War and Marine, in an interview with Professor E. A. Ross of the University of Wisconsin.

Prof. Ross was sent to Russia by the American Institute of Social Service to study the social conditions of that country and has reported his conclusions to the institute. The Bolshevik revolution took place while Professor Ross was in Russia. Trotsky was Foreign Minister when he explained the Bolshevik economic program.

"Is it the intention of your party to dispossess the owners of industrial plants in Russia?" Professor Ross asked him.

"No," Trotsky replied. "We are not ready yet to take over all industry. That will come in time, but no one can say how soon. For the present we expect out of the earnings of a factory to pay the owner 5 or 6 per cent yearly on his actual investment. What we aim at now is control rather than ownership."

"What do you mean by control?" "I mean that we will see to it that the factory is run not from the point of view of private profit but from the point of view of social welfare democratically conceived. For example, we will not allow the capitalist to shut up his factory in order to start his workers into subsistence because it is not yielding him a profit. If it is turning out economically a needed product, it must be kept running. If the capitalist abandons it he will lose it altogether for a board of directors chosen by the workmen will be put in charge."

"Again 'control' implies that the books and correspondence of the concern will be open to the public so that henceforth there will be no industrial secrets."

"Do you propose that the profits

COMMUNITY AMAZED OVER W. D. JONES CASE

Condition So Serious They Said He Couldn't Live Long—Gains 32
Lbs. on Tanlac.

"Poor fellow, he can't last long," my friends were saying among each other and, I really felt that way myself, but I have already gained thirty-two pounds by taking Tanlac and now everybody is amazed at my wonderful recovery." This statement, which is truly remarkable, was made recently by W. D. Jones, foreman on the feed floor at the El Paso, Texas, Smelter.

"About eight months ago," continued Mr. Jones, "I was taken down with what was pronounced malaria. Then my stomach got in a terrible fix and the little I forced myself to eat seemed to form into lumps and the gas bloated me up until I was miserable. I got in such a bad fix I couldn't eat anything and, actually, I have gone for three days without taking more than one glass of milk. Pretty soon I developed a frightful case of rheumatism in my arms, shoulders and neck, and tried everything I could hear of but kept getting worse. I was absolutely helpless—couldn't dress or feed myself—and I don't believe I slept an average of three hours in twenty-four. The leaders and muscles in my neck hurt me so I could hardly swallow. I simply suffered agony with my joints and what sleep I did get was only a doze, just before day, when I had been completely worn-out."

"I dropped down from one hundred and sixty pounds to one hundred and eight and was hardly more than a frame of skin and bones. I spent over two hundred dollars during those eight months but kept going down until neither I nor my friends thought I would get well. Finally a friend persuaded me to try Tanlac and the results have been astonishing. The first bottle made me feel hungry and I began to eat a little. The second got me so I could eat quite a bit and my stomach quit bothering me. The third improved me so much that I regained hopes and after finishing my sixth bottle I was a well man and found I had actually gone up to one hundred and forty pounds. I believe I will soon weigh more than I ever did for I'm gaining every day. My appetite is wonderful and I can eat just anything without it hurting me in the least. I expect to always keep a bottle of Tanlac in the house and I don't know any better way to express my appreciation for what it has done for me than by telling others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Company, and by leading druggists and dealers everywhere.

Adv.
earned by a concern shall be divided among its workers?" asked the Professor.

"No," said Trotsky. "Profit-sharing is a bourgeois notion. The workers in a mill will be paid adequate wages. All the profits earned will belong to society. It is only pure profit that would be divided."

"Where will the money come from that will build new factories?" "We can impose on the capitalist, to whom we allow a dividend of five or six per cent on his capital, the obligation to reinvest in some industry a part—say 25 per cent of what he receives."

"In Russia you hold the capitalists down to five or six per cent while in other countries they can hope for twice or thrice as much return, won't Russia be stripped of capital?" "They won't be allowed to remove their capital from Russia at will," said Trotsky significantly.

"I submitted this Bolshevik program to various Russian economists and all agreed that the Russian workmen are too ignorant and shortsighted to conform to the sound principles which may be held by their leaders," added Professor Ross. "Conscious of being masters of the industrial properties, they will not submit themselves to indispensable discipline. They will not follow the counsel of technical men and they will 'eat up the capital,' so that before the factories have been long in their hands it will be impossible to keep them going."

Human Friends.
Do you idealize your friends? Sometimes a person who has worshiped at the shrine of a teacher or schoolmate is shocked into cynicism by the discovery of a flaw in the one who was fancied perfection embodied. Human nature is faulty, and it is always dangerous to identify the virtues which demand our fealty with any human being. Keep on loving and honoring truth and kindness, even though you detect some acquaintance in a falsehood, or are treated unkindly by a friend.—Exchange.

FINDS WEALTH IN DREAM SHIP

Aged Skipper Brings Home Fortune in Boat of Boyhood Fancy.

CALLED BACK TO SEA

Deserts Life on Water, But Sight of Aged Bark Revives Dreams and Lures Him Forth to Riches.

New Bedford, Mass.—Three score years ago a small boy in this city watched the whaler Charles W. Morgan leave port and sail beyond the misty horizon. In boyish fancy he saw himself bringing the ship back to port, filled with valuable cargo. Now the dream has come true. Capt. Benjamin S. Cleveland, seventy years old, has just returned to New Bedford in the dream ship of his boyhood with a cargo of $30,000.

As Cleveland grew to manhood he took to the sea, but not in the Charles W. Morgan. He spent his life on the water, and returned to land a few years ago, with just enough of a fortune to keep him the rest of his days. Then, a little more than a year ago, he saw the dream ship of his youth tied up at Fairhaven and doomed to the scrap heap.

The ship was seventy-five years old, but Captain Cleveland knew the men who had built it. He knew where the sturdy woodsmen had cut the oak and locust trees out of which the ship was fashioned. Visions of his boyhood dream haunted him until he finally bought the old bark, hired a crew of 30 men and sailed, in September, 1916. His goal was Desolation Island, 2,500 miles south of Cape Town, South Africa, the lair of the sea elephant.

On the shelving beaches of that dreary island in the South Indian ocean the sea elephants disport themselves. They leave on a three-months feeding expedition each year, but return in the mating season. The bulls fight for the females and never quit until one is killed. Hundreds come ashore and lie on the beach. It is then that the hunters reap their harvest.

Bullets Bounce From Bodies.
The bodies of the sea elephants are invulnerable, except in one soft spot above the eyes. If a bullet strikes them in another part of the body it bounces off as it would from plate steel. With rifles and spears the hunters kill their game, sometimes even clubbing the smaller ones. The sea elephants are like seals and the only ones that will fight are the bulls, which battle fiercely.

Took a Secret Route, So as to Avoid German Raiders.

After the oil had been rendered on ship board and the boat was filled with the precious fluid, Captain Cleveland turned the prow of his boat toward America. He took a secret route, so as to avoid German raiders, although he barely missed a mine while making for the West Indies. Not long ago the 15,000-mile trip was finished, with the seventy-year-old skipper on the deck of his seventy-six-year-old dream ship. In the hold was the fortune that his boyhood fancy had seen.

SHORT SENTENCE SAVES HIM

Man Released From Prison Because Court Gave Shorter Sentence Than Law Prescribes.

Montgomery, Ala.—Because the court gave him a shorter sentence than the law prescribed as punishment for operating a gambling table, J. F. Bailey of Leighton is a free man. Bailey was convicted and the court sentenced him to serve six months in the penitentiary. He sued out a writ of habeas corpus. After the hearing the circuit court judge ordered his release, holding that the trial judge had erred in giving him only six months when the law prescribed not less than one year.

PERSONAL EXPERIENCE CONVINCES DRUGGIST ABOUT SWAMP-ROOT

During the twenty years that I have been selling Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root it has been successful in many cases of Rheumatism and severe kidney trouble and I do not believe that there is a better remedy on the market for the ailments for which it is recommended. From personal experience in using the preparation I know that it is an excellent and most reliable one and I have no hesitancy in advising its use in any disorders of the kidneys, liver or bladder. A WORD FROM COUNTY FOOD ADMINISTRATOR

To the Merchants and District Food Administrators:

After considering the inventory of sugar in this country and the amount expected to arrive from Cuba, the United States Food Administration finds that the figures show that with fair conservation between now and the preserving season we shall have barely enough sugar to carry us over the peak load of the sugar season, unless severe measures are taken at the present time.

It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that conservation be enforced in order that the fruits and vegetables, which must be preserved, be properly provided for. We must have strict economy now rather than a shortage when the canning season is at hand. We must save now so that sugar will be plentiful during the summer and early fall.

All merchants in Pontotoc county are hereby ordered to reduce their sales to 50c worth of sugar to town customers and $1.00 worth of sugar to country customers.

Special arrangements are being made to take care of the people during the canning season. A certificate will be furnished the merchant for his customer to sign. This certificate will read as follows:

CERTIFICATE.
I hereby declare to the United States Food Administration that I desire to purchase, from—(merchant) an amount of—pounds of sugar for MY use for PRESERVING AND CANNING PURPOSES ONLY, and that I shall return any surplus not used for this purpose.

Signed—
Address—
(This certificate to be returned to Federal Food Administrator in one week.)

Flour
I am glad to report that thousands of pounds of flour have been returned to merchants over the county by parties who had an excess of flour under the new allotment. This flour is still coming in.

I have had numerous inquiries as to whether or not there was any penalty attached to hoarding, or in keeping more flour than the government allows. Hoarding is a violation of the Federal Laws and is punishable by a fine not exceeding $5,000.00 or imprisonment not exceeding two years or by both such fine and imprisonment.

All persons having corn ground at custom mills should get a miller's receipt for the same where they expect to purchase flour against the meal as a substitute. The merchant should take up the miller's receipt when flour is sold, so that the same receipt cannot be used again. This receipt should then be given to the local food administrator to check by. I have a plentiful supply of these receipts at my office and any miller who has not received a supply should write for them at once.

Please give this letter full publicity in your community.
OREL BUSBY,
Federal Fuel Administrator, Pontotoc County, Oklahoma.

J. O. McMINN ANNOUNCES FOR COURT CLERK

In another place in this paper is the announcement of J. O. McMinn for the office of Court Clerk of Pontotoc County. Mr. McMinn is well known in this county, having lived here for about ten years. He has lived in this part of what is now Oklahoma since 1893, coming here from Tennessee. During this entire period he has been engaged in teaching, editing a newspaper and farming. In recent years, he has devoted a big part of the time to the farm and has been very successful.

Mr. McMinn says that he has no big plan to make to the voters. He knows that he is well qualified for the office, very few men in the county having as high qualifications for such a place as he. He has never held office, and has never asked for an office but one time. Two years ago he made the race for representative in the state legislature and was defeated by only a very few votes.

AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL
The Normal has recently purchased forty pairs of skates for the use of the student body and has introduced roller skating as a part of the recreation and sport. The skating is under the direct supervision of a faculty member and has proved to be quite popular in the school. On Thursday evening of this week from eight to ten o'clock the first "open skate" will be had and patrons and friends of the Normal are invited to be present and watch the skating.

MANY REQUESTS FOR

FURLONGS GOING IN.
W. A. Riley, secretary of the Pontotoc county exemption board, states that there has been a rush of applications for furloughs for soldier boys for the busy crop season, but that the attitude of the army officials does not offer much hope that many will be granted. None will be issued for more than thirty days and these are subject to instant call at any time.

Some Heat

It has been estimated that the total amount of warmth diffused by the gulf stream would cause a river of metal as large as the Mississippi to flow, or would raise from a constant winter to a constant summer temperature the whole of the air that rests upon the British Isles and France. The fog to which England is so subject are, in a great part, owing to it, and through it the western coasts of Ireland enjoy a temperature two degrees higher than those on the East.

Used First Sewing Machine.

The first woman in America to use a sewing machine died at Winsted, in Connecticut, at the age of eighty-six. She was Miss Elizabeth Killburn, who in the fifties was a teacher in a private school at New Hartford. When Elias Howe was experimenting with his invention, he asked her to help him, and so to her fell the honor of being the first to use the new machine.

A Legal Pun.

"A petition for an injunction, based upon a somewhat doubtful assertion of fact," says a New York lawyer. "came before one of the justices of the supreme court of this state. After consideration of the affidavit of the petitioner, the justice remarked: 'In this case an injunction will not lie, even if the relator does.'—Case and Comment.

Heel Not to Bear Weight.

The weight of the body must never be borne on the heels. In walking, the leg is thrown forward from the hip, knee acting in harmony, heel touching the ground first; but the weight should be so quickly transferred to the ball of the foot that the heel makes no noise. One who walks noisily is always walking incorrectly and of course cannot be graceful.

Speed on the Piano.

When a well-known pianist was playing a presto by Mendelssohn a man who was present set himself to counting the notes and the time occupied. She played 5,500 notes in four minutes and three seconds. Every one of these notes involved three movements of a finger, elbow or arm. At 24 notes per second that amounted to 72 movements a second.
